

Dear Italian Wine Lovers,

Happy New Year!! May all the best wishes and blessings to you and family! Happy news in the beginning of a new year, we have picked 2 star producer brands in Piedmont:

Clerico | Roberto Voerzio

Winemaking regions of the Piedmont and Bordeaux are very close in latitude. The summertime temperatures are similar: the Piedmont wine region has a colder, continental winter climate, and significantly lower rainfall due to the rain shadow effect of the Alps. Vineyards are typically planted on hillsides altitudes between 150-400 meter. The warmer south facing slopes are mainly used for Nebbiolo or Barbera while the cooler sites are planted with Dolcetto or Moscato.

| James Suckling 95: "This is class with rose petal, blueberries and blackberries on the nose. Full body, with solid core of fruit yet balanced and so very long. Seamless tannins. Superb. Try in 2016" | James Suckling 93: "Pretty nose of crushed dark fruits and dried lavender follow through to a full body, with chewy yet polished tannins and long structured finish. Racy. Best in 2016." | Wine Advocate 91: "Freshly cut roses, cherries, spices and licorice. The wine shows quite a bit of freshness and brightness, qualities that aren't so apparent in many 2008 Nebbiolo and Nebbiolo-based wines. A wonderful | sense of florality is woven throughout, leading to a refined, impeccably polished finish. The 2008 is way too young, but it is a fabulous wine that only needs a few more years in the cellar. Anticipated maturity: 2014-2024.” – Robert Parker

| Wine Advocate 96: “The 2008 Barolo Rocche dell’Annunziata/Torriglione impresses for its silky tannins and overall textural finesse. It shows striking mid-palate richness and gorgeous inner sweetness to match its beautifully delineated, expressive bouquet. Stylistically it is a bit on the masculine side, but very beautiful just the same. Layers of flavor build to the huge, dramatic finish. The Rocche presents a very classic aromatic and flavor profile backed up by serious heft and structure. It is the sweetest and most seductive of the 2008s. Readers will need to be especially patient, though. The Rocche shuts down hard in the glass. It won’t be an easy wine, but those who can wait will be handsomely rewarded. Anticipated maturity: 2018-2033.” | James Suckling 98: “This Barolo has an amazing finish that last for minutes. So much white truffle, berry and ripe fruit character. Full and savory with a clean finish. Fabulous.” | James Suckling 97: “Fabulous aromas of strawberries, walnuts, cedar and flowers. Complex and captivating. Full body, fine yet chewy tannins and a long, flavorful finish. Needs time to soften but a superb wine. Much better than the 2010. Better after 2018.” | Wine Advocate 97: “The 2004 Barolo Cerequio has been nothing short of profound on the four previous occasions I have tasted it and it is equally superb now that it is in bottle. It flows from the glass with a beautiful, pure expression of roses, flowers, sweet spices and ripe red fruit. This richly-textured, sumptuous Barolo literally shimmers with fruit from start to finish. The glorious, complete 2004 Cerequio is a superb effort from the inspired Roberto Voerzio. Anticipated maturity: 2014-2024.” – Robert Parker |
