

“A wine of pure pleasure and a sophisticated gastronomic wine, Cristal is both powerful and delicate, combining subtlety and precision.”

- Jean-Baptiste Lécaillon, Cellar Master

Louis Roederer is a champagne house based in Reims that was founded in 1776. It produces the famous Champagne Cristal. From a vineyard area of 214 hectares (530 acres), Louis Roederer produces two thirds of the grapes needed for its production, sourcing the remaining required fruit from established farming contacts. The vintage cuvées include the Brut Vintage, Rosé Vintage, with Pinot noir and Chardonnay in an approximately 7:3 proportion, and the 100% Chardonnay Blanc de Blancs. The rosé is made by red wine addition rather than by saignée method. The prestige cuvée Cristal, approximately an equal blend of Chardonnay and Pinot noir, is also available as a rosé, which contains more Pinot noir and is also made by addition of red wine.

Cristal Rosé 2007

“Cristal Rosé 2007 is a great classic of freshness and substance.”

- Jean-Baptiste Lécaillon, Cellar Master

Tasting note: The mouth is an intense and concentrated blend of fruit. The attack is ‘high’ in energy: the full force of the great concentrated wine comes to the fore! Orange zest, with juicy and unctuous fruit, complements this impression of concentrated fruitiness. The tannins, with their sappiness, delineate the precise and pure contours of the wine’s solid structure. Finally, the long and persistent freshness, enhanced by the right dosage, provides a long finish and reveals almost Bourguignon grainy tannins.

Louis Roederer
Brut Rose 2010/ 11

2010 – WA92

“Precision and purity are echoed on the palate with a crunchy, mature attack of Pinot noir from the south-facing Cumières slopes, escorted by the almost acid freshness of the Chardonnays from the north-facing Chouilly slopes.”

2011

“The challenge of the 2011 Rosé, a difficult vintage for ripeness in Champagne, is perfectly met thanks to the Pinots noirs from south-facing Cumières, and the small yields which helped these grapes reach perfect ripeness.”

Louis Roederer
Brut Vintage 2008

“The 2008 Vintage is an intense and lively wine of the highest quality, embodying the fruitiness and power of this great vintage.”

WA 93: “From a “beautiful vintage” (JB Lécaillon), the 2008 Vintage Brut offers a very precise and refined nose of sweet cherries and lemons. Broad and round on the palate, with orange and lemon flavors, this full-bodied, full-flavored, yet very precise 70/30 Pinot and Chardonnay blend reveals great purity, vitality, finesse and a persistent finish....In fact, this cuvée seems to fly over the palate, but also coats it with an elegant and harmonious fruit. 40% of the wine was fermented in oak and 20% underwent malolactic fermentation. This is a very good value.”
