ELEGANCE OF BORDEAUX: MARGAUX

Margaux is famous in producing wines that are among the most sensual and alluring of Bordeaux. The soils in Margaux are the lightest and most gravelly of the Médoc with some of the soils also containing a high percentage of sand. Vineyards located in Cantenac and Margaux make up the core of the appellation with the best vineyard sites being located on well-drained slopes. It is these lighter, well-drained soils which give Margaux its deft touch and silky perfumes. Wineworld brings you these elegant Margaux wines. Limited stock, please act fast!

Innocent Bystander Chardonnay 2012

Yarra Valley, Australia ~~$158~~ $140/btl

Innocent Bystander produces a stylish Chardonnay that shows stonefruit melon and vanillin oak on the nose. The palate has lovely creamy mouthfeel and flavours of butterscotch and citrus with minerally acidity on the finish.

JH 93: "Light straw-green; an effortlessly elegant and effortlessly flavoured wine, presenting Yarra Valley chardonnay without artifice or evident oak, simply caressing the mouth with its stone fruit flavours, the finish with that hallmark Yarra Valley length."
