Casanova di Neri Brunello di Montalcino DOCG 2010

$398 /

$378 (12 btls+) BUY

Wine Advocate | 96

“The outstanding 2010 Brunello di Montalcino gives you everything you want to see in a great wine, a great Tuscan wine. This monumental expression of Sangiovese delivers top-notch intensity with seamless integration of aromas. They span from dark fruit and Morello cherry to chocolate, spice, licorice, balsam herb and rosemary sprig. The energy and vitality of the vintage is locked perfectly within. This Brunello exhibits especially soft, silky tannins with long persistence and momentum. There is nothing out of place and the price tag is certainly not exaggerated for this level of excellence.”

Casanova di Neri Brunello di Montalcino Tenuta Nuova DOCG 2010

$1,080 / btl

$1,050 (12 btls+) BUY

Wine Advocate 100

“The 2010 Brunello di Montalcino Tenuta Nuova is a protagonist of the vintage. The fruit is deep and dark with rich levels of extract, intensity and flavor. It goes far beyond your standard cherry and blackberry to include plum cake, spice bread and bacon-wrapped prune. Nothing is obvious or monochromatic about this wine. Everything is nuanced and ethereal. Tenuta Nuova is also distinguished by the linear mineral notes that are characteristic of this single-vineyard site. In 2010, those traits are especially well-defined and pronounced. The tannins reach a level of suppleness that is almost impossible to find in the sometimes prickly and acidic Sangiovese grape. If there is one thing Giacomo Neri has mastered, it is harvesting at optimal ripeness: He knows his property and his vines better than most and it shows. Collectors will want to put this wine aside ten years or longer.”

SIGNATURE

Casanova di Neri Brunello di Montalcino Cerretalto 2007

$1,680 / btl

$1,600 (12 btls+)

BUY

Wine Advocate | 94

“Dark raspberry jam, flowers, mint, spices and French oak all burst from the glass as the 2007 Brunello di Montalcino Cerretalto shows off its personality. Stacked to the core with fruit, the 2007 Cerretalto needs time to lose some of its baby fat, but it is undeniably appealing. The flashy, ripe style of the year comes through loud and clear on the voluptuous, generous finish. Cerretalto remains one of the most distinctive wines in Montalcino.”

James Suckling | 97

“Wonderful aromas of dried berries and raspberries with hints of milk chocolate and blueberries. Full body with velvety tannins and a long, delicious finish. Drink now or hold. Wonderful wine as always. Not the intensity of the 2006 but superb for this single-vineyard wonder.”

Casanova di Neri Rosso di Montalcino DOC 2011

$188 (12 btls+)

BUY

Medium forming legs and aromas of raspberry, strawberry, violet and mint. It's somewhat balanced and has flavours of raspberry, strawberry and strawberry jam with a medium body. Juicy texture with a medium finish - Light lunch with this young RdM. Out of my expectation that this wine is well structured with plenty of sweet yet fresh red fruit. Very enjoy now but I think give it 1 to 2 year which will become more integrate and delicious.

BLOWOUT PRICE

Feudi di San Gregorio Taurasi 2009

$280 /

$260 (12 btls+)

BUY

James Suckling | 93

"A pleasantly chewy red with black pepper and blueberry character. Licorice, minerals and black pepper notes as well. Full body, well-structured and a beautifully austere finish. Better in 2015 when it's a little softer but outstanding quality already."

Feudi di San Gregorio Irpinia Aglianico Serpico 2007

$500 / btl

$480 (12 btls+)

BUY

James Suckling | 93

"Lots of spices and berries with dried fruits. Full body, with chewy tannins and a long finish. Peppery. Hints of toasted oak. Intense and rich wine. Drink or hold."

Feudi di San Gregorio Taurasi Riserva Piano di Montevergine 2008

$420 / btl

$380 (12 btls+)

BUY

Wine Advocate | 89

"The 2008 Taurasi Riserva Piano di Montevergine does not shine as bright as the other stellar editions of this landmark wine from Feudi di San Gregorio. The bouquet shows less harmony and balance with bramble, dark fruit, cola and spice. There is a high level of astringency and the quality of tannins is slightly rougher and thicker in this vintage. The wine ages in oak for up to 24 months and should continue its evolution for the next ten years. The tannins should prove softer over time."

Feudi di San Gregorio Greco di Tufo 2013

$160 / btl

$140 (12 btls+)

BUY

James Suckling | 92

"A wine with dried apple, honey and hints of light toffee and caramel. Full-bodied, dense and rich but fresh and lively. Excellent, long finish of dried-fruit flavors. Drink now."

Feudi di San Gregorio Greco di Tufo Cutizzi 2012

$190 / btl

$168 (12 btls+)

BUY

Angular and defined on the nose, ripe lemon and fresh herbs. Impressive, crisp and chewy with a long finish that broadens on the palate. Lime, apricot, and apple with an earthy undertone. I get the sense this needs time to reach harmony; indeed a very good and interesting wine.

Feudi di San Gregorio Falanghina Sannio 2013

$140 / btl

$120 (12 btls+)

BUY

“The 2013 Falanghina del Sannio is one of the easiest wines in the Feudi di San Gregorio portfolio of whites. It is a great choice for appetizers or finger foods. The bouquet is fresh and informal with pretty layers of citrus, white peach and spring flower. Distant aromas of chopped herb or sweet basil appear at the back. The mouthfeel is streamlined and tight.”
