3 ★★★★★ classification

Same award as Krug, Salon & Bollinger

Based in the town of Dizy, the House of Jacquesson was founded in 1798, and is currently run by the Chiquet brothers, Jean-Herve and Laurent. Sourced exclusively from Grand Cru and Premier Cru vineyards, the essence of Jacquesson's wines is in the grapes. Complex and richly textured, the wines express a depth of fruit that is enhanced by vinification in large wooden casks and highlighted by their unusually low dosages. Regarded as one of the world's top Champagne producers, Jacquesson has got 3 STAR CLASSIFICATION (the highest award) in the 2010 La Revue du Vin de France, one of the most highly regarded wine guides in the world. The only other three star Champagnes are Krug, Salon, Bollinger, Egly-Ouriat, and Selosse.

Jacquesson Cuvee 738 Extra Brut NV

Wine Advocate 91

"Its bouquet offers a precise, multi-layered, fresh and slightly spicy bouquet of chalk, ripe apples, lemons and lemon grass, some Mediterranean herbs, oysters and sea breeze. The wine is lean and straight-forwarded on the palate, lovely, dry and stimulating in its firm structure. This is pure Champagne with elegance and a lingering expression. It's a great aperitif and in this case, the glasses should not be too big, whereas many vintage Champagnes taste much more complex and vinous out of wine glasses with a larger goblet."

Jacquesson Avize Champ Cain Extra Brut 2004 (gift box)

Wine Advocate 96

“From vines planted in 1962, the single-vineyard Jacquesson 2004 Extra Brut Avize Champ Cain leads with an utterly remarkable nose. A greenhouse-like profusion of leafing and flowering things is imposed over sea breeze, with jasmine; musky narcissus; nose-prickling spice as if from some exotic orchid; iodine-tinged toasted shrimp shells; and toasted grain all pungently present and anticipating the elusive complexity delivered on a caressingly polished yet consummately refreshing and almost ethereally delicate palate. Over time, the sense of creaminess and the refinement of bubbles became more evident, along with a contrasting impression of enhanced piquancy, suggesting hops and lentil sprouts, all in the context of remarkable poise and transparency to nuance. The endlessly fascinating finish remains infectiously juicy and subtly yet mouthwateringly saline.

PHILIPPONNAT
CHAMPAGNE

“This has been one of my favorite Champagne sources for many years.”

- Allen Meadows, an American wine critic and publisher of the Burghound.com quarterly newsletter and website

It is one of the last houses to be run by a member of its founding family. And Charles Philipponnat is a true Champenois, descended from winemakers, cellar masters and growers dating back nearly 600 years. Champagne is in Charles' blood, and this helps to explain Philipponnat's recent resurgence. Twenty years ago, the house was known largely for its iconic Clos des Goisses—the majestic tête de cuvée made from Champagne's single greatest vineyard. The respected American Champagne writer Peter Liem calls Clos des Goisses “arguably the greatest vineyard site in all of Champagne.”

Philipponnat Royale Reserve Brut NV

Wine Spectator 91

“Creamy in texture, framed by firm acidity and a chalky base note, this well-knit rosé offers a fine mesh of white cherry, fleur de sel, raspberry, almond and crystallized honey notes. Disgorged March 2014. Drink now through 2020. 5,000 cases made.”

Philipponnat Clos Des Goisses Brut (14 days arrival)

Clos des Goisses is the most powerful of all champagnes. It is produced using grapes grown on a unique, pure chalk hillside with a 45° slope facing due south, in in Mareuil-sur-Ay. This is always a vintage wien with a very low dosage.

Vintage 2000 - Wine Spectator 90

“Lightly juicy, with notes of kumquat, biscuit, mineral and green pear, framed by a firm backbone of racy acidity. Tightly knit, with a moderate finish. Disgorged June 2010. Drink now through 2016.”

$950/ btl (case of 12 btls) BUY

Vintage 2003

Color: Gold in colour with a fine, delicate froth.

Nose: Great intensity with notes of citrus and candied fruit, dried fruit and nougat.

Palate: Good structure with a creamy attack and an intense, velvety length in the

Vintage 2004 – Wine Advocate 96

“This is a bottling that combines silken feel with delicacy, refreshment, and utmost transparency to nuance. Chamomile, mint and lily-of-the-valley don't just turn heads from the rim of the glass; they waft through this wine's entire palate performance, against a greenhouse-like background of diverse if elusive flowering and leafing things. Salivary gland-tugging salinity and hints of chalk suffuse a fruit matrix of white peach, lime, red raspberry and red currant whose juicy, subtly crunchy expressions put me a bit in mind of certain supreme Nahe Rieslings.”

VEGAN Champagne

For those look for the most original, natural & pure taste of champagne

Family-owned Champagne Duval-Leroy which found in 1859 has announced that its entire range is now 100% vegan friendly in the week of November 24, 2015, arguing that consumers want wines made 'as naturally as possible'. Vergan Champagne is achieved this by allowing the Champagne to 'clarify' naturally, by leaving it for around three months longer than is typical in vats and barrel to allow a natural settling process. This means the house does not need additional fining agents that can include products such as casein (milk protein), gelatin and egg whites. 'There is an increasing consumer demand for wines made as naturally as possible,' Julien Duval-Leroy said. All the house's grapes are from premier cru and grand cru terroirs. 'We want to ensure that we fully respect them during winemaking,' Duval-Leroy told Decanter.com. 'But we have also found that there is a quality advantage to the longer ageing also. The mousse becomes finer and more persistent, while the wine retains a natural richness.'

Duval Leroy Brut NV

Wine Spectator 91

"A fresh, finely knit version that meshes a silky mousse and delicate acidity with a subtle flavor range, including rich hints of toasted brioche, blackberry, spun honey, lemon zest and smoked almond. A fine aperitif in terms of weight and balance, but in a slightly richer style. Drink now through 2020. 40,000 cases made."

$300/ btl | $280/ btl (12btl+) BUY

Duval Leroy Blanc de Chardonnay Millesime 2006

Wine Spectator 91

"Harmonious, with a lively bead and bright acidity, this features a pleasing range of wild strawberry, chalk, kumquat and cream flavors. A streak of saline-tinged minerality lingers on the firm finish. Disgorged January 2015."
