

Pierre Yves Colin Morey

“Pierre-Yves Colin-Morey is one of Burgundy’s most exciting young producers. Colin-Morey works with six hectares of vineyards, three of which are estate owned, while the rest are sources of purchased fruit.” – Antonio Galloni, Wine Advocate

“Like many of Burgundy's more ambitious younger wine producers, son of the revered Marc Colin of St-Aubin has eschewed the traditional route of vinifying only the grapes he grows himself; this is not Domaine Pierre-Yves Colin-Morey. Instead he continues to buy in grapes in addition to the produce of his own six hectares carved out of the old Domaine Marc Colin – his siblings' shares remaining part of the family domaine. ‘I'm more than happy with the vineyards I got,’ he says, ‘but I also buy in about 30% of production.’ He doesn't show on the label which are his grapes and which wines are made from bought in grapes. ‘I want to make wines as good from bought-in grapes as from my own vineyards. And some of my bought grapes are better than my own. I know everyone in Chassagne-Montrachet. I want to work for the next 30 years. So I can't afford to make a mistake.’” – Jancis Robinson

Pierre Yves Colin Morey Santenay V.V. Cep Centenaires 2014 (Rouge)

Tasting note: "This works very here, this wine a barrel sample, is ripe, focused and full of charm and character with rich detail and vigor, it shows subdued floral tones, bright red fruits and mineral notes, but fills out with air. There is layers of red cherry, tart cranberry, raspberry, plum and hints of strawberry fruits along with tea and Asian spices, cedar, baking spice and stony/chalky mineral highlights. This is a Santenay that feels like a Beaune Premier Cru"

Pierre Yves Colin Morey St Aubin La Chateniere 1er Cru 2013

Wine Advocate 91: "The 2014 Saint Aubin 1er Cru Chatenière has a more reserved and laconic bouquet compared to Pierre-Yves's other 2014 Saint Aubins, more backward and requiring more cellar time. The palate is fresh and crisp, quite precise with nectarine and lemon peel notes, peach following later with a light brush of honey. This is a punter-friendly Saint Aubin and I don't intend that in a bad way - just a wine that is delicious to its core."

Pierre Yves Colin Morey Chassagne Montrachet 1C Chenevottes 2014

Burghound 90-92: " An ultra-fresh and citrus-inflected nose speaks of white orchard fruit petrol and discreet floral nuances. There is fine intensity to the racy and delicious middle weight flavors that possess a rounded mouth feel yet retaining lovely detail on the complex and lingering finish. While not as fine as the Baudines this is much finer than either of the Morgeot entries."

Pierre Yves Colin Morey Chassagne Montrachet Abbaye de Morgeot 2014

Burghound 89-92: "This is also sufficiently reduced as to render a proper assessment of the nose impossible. The palate impression of the delicious and round full-bodied flavors is one of elevated ripeness along with plenty of sappy dry extract that buffers the citrusy if slightly less complex finale. This too should drink well relatively early on."

Pierre Yves Colin Morey Puligny Montrachet 1er Cru Champs Gains 2014

Vinous 90-92: "Bright, pale yellow. Musky, reduced aromas of white peach, pear and smoke. Sweet and glyceric but not at all over the top; in fact a bit youthfully- disjointed today as the strong acidity is battling with the wine's stone fruit flavors. This distinctly thick wine finishes with a saline nuance and noteworthy length. Colin-Morey told me he waits to harvest these vines in order to get more complexity."

Pierre Yves Colin Morey Meursault 1er Cru Charmes 2014

Burghound 90-93: "A pretty and beautifully layered nose expresses notes of pear, hazelnut, apple and lemongrass. The notably rich and generously proportioned full-bodied flavors possess both fine power and punch while delivering excellent depth and length. This is a classic Charmes that should be approachable young yet be capable of rewarding 6 to 9 years of cellar time."

Pierre Yves Colin Morey Meursault 1er Cru Perrieres 2014

Burghound 90-93: "Moderate reduction knocks down the nose and renders it difficult to evaluate. On the plus side though there is a beguiling freshness to the pure, detailed and racy medium weight flavors that also possess that lovely sense of underlying tension that makes the flavors and finish come alive in the mouth, particularly on the beautifully well-delineated finish. This well-balanced and highly persistent effort isn't quite as concentrated as the Genevrières though it's just as refined."
