

DOMAINE DE LA JANASSE

Modern style Chateauneuf du Pape

Starting in 1993, Janasse began to destem some of their fruit. That trend has continued and as of today, at least 80% of the berries are fermented without stems. Concrete vats are used to ferment their Grenache. They use the short, conical shaped oak barrels to ferment their Mourvedre and Syrah. The Grenache is aged in foudres. The Mourvedre and Syrah is aged in a combination of new French oak barrels and foudres giving Janasse its modern style.

With Janasse's 15-hectare vineyards, 1 hectare of vines is used for white wine grapes, while the other vines are used to produce red Chateauneuf du Pape wine. Their vines are scattered across the region on different terroirs and soil types. They have old vines. Their oldest vines, which are close to 90 years of age on average are used in their special Janasse Cuvee Vieilles Vignes. Their oldest vines are planted in the La Crau area. 1990 is an important vintage for the domaine as it marked the first year when Janasse produced all three different cuvees.

La Janasse Cotes du Rhone Blanc Tradition 2015

Wine Advocate 88: "Based on 50% Grenache Blanc, the 2015 Cotes du Rhone Blanc is sensibly aged solely in stainless steel to preserve its freshness. This is a plump, medium to full-bodied wine filled with orange and lime sherbet notes, with an extra blast of lime and brine that runs through the finish. Drink it over the next year."

La Janasse Chateauneuf-du-Pape Blanc Tradition 2013

Wine Advocate 94: "One of the top whites in the appellation, the Sabon's 2013 Châteauneuf du Pape Blanc is jaw-dropping good. A blend of equal parts Roussanne, Grenache Blanc and Clairette that goes through malo and is aged in 40% new oak, it boasts smoking notes of white peach, honeysuckle, brioche and salty minerality. Medium to full-bodied, ultra-pure and with building richness, it's a spectacular white that I'd recommend drinking over the coming 3-4 years, but it will certainly evolve for decades."

La Janasse Cotes du Rhone Villages "Terre d'Argile" 2015

Wine Advocate 90: "The 2015 Cotes du Rhone Villages Terre d'Argile comes from a parcel of vines near Beaucastel's Coudoulet. A blend of one-fourth each Grenache, Syrah, Mourvèdre and Carignan, it's a ripe, supple, medium to full-bodied wine full of cherries and chocolate, with hints of black tea on the finish."

La Janasse Chateauneuf-du-Pape "Chaupin" 2012

Wine Advocate 94: "The 2012 Châteauneuf du Pape Cuvee Chaupin, which I was able to taste (and drink) from multiple bottles, is a beautiful Grenache that comes from the cooler, northeastern edge of the appellation. Coming almost all from the Chapouin lieu-dit (it gets a small bit from La Janasse), it gives up the classic notes of black berries, spring flowers, violets, and licorice that I always seem to find in this cuvee. Building nicely on the palate, it is medium to full-bodied, beautifully textured, has tons of sweet fruit and solid, if not firm, tannin that come out on the finish. It will be better in another couple of years and have 15+ years of overall longevity."

La Janasse Chateauneuf-du-Pape Tradition 2015

Wine Advocate 93: "The 2015 Chateauneuf du Pape is a terrific effort. Blended from six different lieux-dits, it's roughly 70% Grenache, 20% Syrah and 10% Mourvèdre. The result features bright raspberry fruit, plenty of weight and richness, a supple, velvety mouthfeel and a touch of chocolate (but notably no heat) on the finish."

La Janasse Chateauneuf-du-Pape Vieilles Vignes 2012

Wine Advocate 96: "Up in the top handful of wines in the vintage (which should come as no surprise to anyone who follows this estate), the 2012 Châteauneuf du Pape Vieilles Vignes is a full-bodied, beautifully concentrated, rich and layered Châteauneuf that doesn't put a foot wrong. Made from 85% Grenache, 10% Mourvedre and the rest Syrah, it offers blockbuster notes of blackberry, liquid-violets, spice and serious minerality to go with awesome mid-palate depth and layers of sweet tannin. Like the Cuvee and thrill through 2027."
