Bordeaux lovers would have had heard of Petrus' proprietor Christian Moeux's famous reference of Trotanoy - Petrus' sister property - as "Poor Man's Petrus". See it not as a negative comment of Trotanoy but a very positive indication that Trotanoy delivers Petrus quality at an incredibly good value price point! Digging up hidden gems is indeed a good approach for Bordeaux especially if your primary goal is to get the most out of the dollar you pay. We have short listed the following second and third wines of well-recognized Bordeaux estates; as well as their sister properties for you. Surprise yourself with La Tour du Pin 2009 ($308 per bottle - 5 bottles only!) - we have had older vintages of this wine when it was called La Tour du Pin Figeac (1987 and 1990) and this wine offers superb quality for its value. Since Cheval Blanc took over in 2006, the wine had been made by Cheval Blanc's technical team and saw a step up in concentration as replanting took place at a higher density.

means that we have cases of 12x750ml available. Purchase must be in full case.

Arômes de Pavie 2015

WineWorld Recommends!

Wine Advocate 92:

“...Deep garnet-purple colored, the 2015 Arômes de Pavie reveals a beguiling nose of smoked meats, fragrant earth and sautéed herbs over a core of warm red and black plums, cherry compote and blackberry pie plus a waft of dried lavender. Medium to full-bodied, the palate reveals very fine and ripe yet wonderfully firm tannins plus a seamless backbone of freshness supporting the generous fruit, finishing long with wonderful restraint and elegance.”
