To hunt for great value in Bordeaux, the easiest way is to look at second and third wines offering and wines made by famed chateaux owners in satellite appellations. That's for red. In general, we consider Bordeaux whites hidden gems by and large. It is not hard to find Grand Vin white wines offering complex, concentrated wines with great ageing potential at a price tag shy of HK$500 a bottle. Take a look at our current loose bottle and case offer on value-for-money red and white Bordeaux. This is quite an extensive list - if you'd like us to shortlist wines according to your requirements, simply give us a call and our wine specialist will revert with recommendations most suited for your needs.

Aromes de Pavie 2015

WineWorld Recommends!

Wine Advocate 92:

"...Deep garnet-purple colored, the 2015 Arômes de Pavie reveals a beguiling nose of smoked meats, fragrant earth and sautéed herbs over a core of warm red and black plums, cherry compote and blackberry pie plus a waft of dried lavender. Medium to full-bodied, the palate reveals very fine and ripe yet wonderfully firm tannins plus a seamless backbone of freshness supporting the generous fruit, finishing long with wonderful restraint and elegance."
