We are blessed to know Shaw + Smith's pioneering style personally through the Smith - which refers to Michael Hill Smith, Australia's first Master of Wine - in the Shaw and Smith team. It was one year after Michael Hill Smith passed his Master of Wine examination. Over a long lunch in 1989, cousins Martin Shaw and Michael Hill Smith MW decided to realize a long held dream to make wine together.

In a recent meeting with Michael, he retold his Master of Wine journey and how it started with his finding the determination to pause his career and took off to be in London for 2 years just to tackle this tremendously rigorous wine examination. The same level of resolve and a perfectionist approach go into Shaw + Smith winemaking. Today, Shaw + Smith sets the benchmark standard and style for Australia's finest Chardonnay and cool-climate Shiraz, whilst developing and fine tuning the quality and style of Tasmanian Pinots and Chardonnay in their recent purchase of Tolpuddle Vineyards in 2011.
